Seeker Aircraft, Inc. Brings on Propel Aviation Sales & Services, LLC as International Dealership

(Albuquerque, NM) The Seeker, a one-of-a-kind, purpose built light observation aircraft specifically designed and developed for aerial surveillance missions will now be sold by Propel Aviation Sales & Services, LLC (“PASS”) in their dealership territories where Propel does business. The dealership agreement between Seeker Aircraft and PASS was finalized on January 6th 2016 and allows for the immediate marketing and sales of the aircraft throughout Florida, the Caribbean Basin (including Guyana, Suriname, and French Guyana) and Africa.

“Bringing on PASS as an authorized Seeker dealer is a major step in expanding our sales efforts both in the United States and internationally,” said Dave Pohlman, Chief Executive Officer of Seeker Aircraft. “We couldn’t be more pleased to have formalized this relationship, knowing that PASS’ impeccable reputation and 10 years of aircraft sales expertise is a perfect match for marketing the unique and highly-specialized qualities of the Seeker.”

Located at Miami Executive Airport in Miami, Florida, PASS is an authorized Cessna Service Station for a full range of propeller products as well as a Continental Diesel Conversion Facility and a Lycoming Engine Service Station. As an FAA and EASA Certified Repair Station Propel adheres to the strictest quality control standards, which sets them apart from other maintenance facilities. In addition to their maintenance capabilities, they provide parts and a variety of consumable products throughout the world. PASS also offers aircraft leasing to qualified buyers.

Jimmy Lockhart, General Manager of PASS stated, “We are extremely pleased to join the Seeker distribution team. The Seeker is ideal for many of the commercial and government operators in our distribution territory who are looking for affordable, supportable ISR aircraft. We have been impressed by the design, performance and operational efficiency of the Seeker, and by the experience and professionalism of the Seeker Aircraft team. In addition to our sales and marketing efforts, our company can provide the after delivery, in-country support that is critically important to the end user. We look forward to a long and successful relationship with Seeker Aircraft.
